

SUSTAINABLE TOURISM POLICY

AT CHIAWA SAFARIS, "CONSERVATION" HAS ALWAYS BEEN MORE THAN JUST A WORD, IT'S BEEN A WAY OF LIFE SINCE OUR INTRODUCING ECO-TOURISM TO THE LOWER ZAMBEZI NP IN 1989.

Writing a formal Responsible Tourism Policy helps us better articulate what we have been doing and will help us rationalize, guide and promote what we do now and into the future, appreciating the wonderful responsibility, privilege and opportunity we have to make a meaningful difference to the habitat, wildlife and people of the Lower Zambezi.

Our guiding "SEE three bottom lines" principle takes the long term view and forms the very basis for sustainability – each decision we take should show profit in the following three categories and therefore be to the long term benefit of all who/that comes into contact with us.

Social

| The impact of our actions on our guests, staff & community

Environment

| The impact of our actions on wildlife & habitat

Economic

| The impact of our actions on our business and those who do business with us

The three are all inter-related and none can thrive or be sustained without the other. We seek to innovate or at least follow "best practice" and these efforts, acknowledged locally and abroad through accolades and award nominations, are summarized as follows:

Social

- | Employ staff locally where possible, pay fair wages, and apply written policies on HIV, Safety and Discrimination.
- | Empower local communities through consistent application of our SEE policies.
- | Ensure significant contributions to Conservation Lower Zambezi's ENVIRONMENTAL.
- | EDUCATION PROGRAM, which has extensive outreach and in-house programs to help communities (from youth to aged) make more environmentally responsible decisions.

- | Support through donated safaris, Charities in Lusaka and the surrounds of the Lower Zambezi that provide meaningful and accountable assistance to orphanages and hospices.
- | Continually monitor and evaluate all SOCIAL actions and impacts with a view to innovation and improvement.
